

“We welcome and support you in your journey with God”

To whom it may concern,

The weekend we spent as a ministry leadership team under Dan Reinhardt’s guidance and care was an inspiration. To have the time to work through Leading From Your Strengths and the subsequent strategic planning discussion with Dan was a blessing from the Lord. Dan is an engaging, honest, humble and inspiring leader. We entered this interactive workshop as connected individuals and left as an inspired team as we not only got to know our own strengths, but the strengths of each other and how we are specifically stronger together. There is a greater joy and peace that permeates our team now. We have a common language from which we can understand and encourage each other in the God-given strengths He has provided us as a people and church. I recommend Dan and the Leading From Your Strengths workshop to anyone looking to find out more about who they are as individuals and as a team.

Please feel free to connect with us here at AEMC if you have any questions about this experience with Dan and I pray that you bring Dan on board with your team to learn to lead from your strengths.

Truly,

Shayne Wyle
Chairman of the Board of Directors
